

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The case of ex-detective Baker, on the charge of robbing Joseph R. Cobb of $200, on the 8th of November, 1865, was taken up in the Washington Criminal Court yesterday. After the arraignment of Baker, his senior counsel, F. P. Stanton, read a special plea, in which exception is taken to the indictment on the ground that the accused was found guilty on a former indictment of false imprisonment, but not guilty of extortion; that the false imprisonment of which he was convicted, and the felony and robbery of which he is now indicted, are one and the same offense, and he therefore asks that he may be discharged. A demurrer to the plea was then filed by the prosecution, and a rejoinder to the same by the defense. The argument to the plea and demurrer was commenced by District Attorney Carrington, who was followed by Mr. Stanton and Mr. Riddle for the defense, and Judge Hughes for the prosecution.

The Boston Advertiser publishes an intercepted letter in possession of the State Department at Washington, identified as being written by Clement C. Clay, under date of St. Catharines, Canada West, November, 1864. The letter it is alleged shows the complicity of the writer in the raids from Canada into the United States. It is understood to furnish the real grounds for Mr. Clay's prolonged imprisonment at Fortress Monroe. The letter is addressed to J. P. Benjamin, and urged the official sanction by the late Confederate Government of the acts of Lieut. Bennett H. Young and the others who made the raid on St. Albans.

The commissaries of musters in the various military departments, under instructions from headquarters of the army, are engaged in discharging all volunteer organizations that can be dispensed with. It is estimated that over fifteen thousand white and colored troops, since the first instant, have been paid off and discharged. It is believed that, on account of the success attending the recruiting service of the regular army, within a month all volunteer organizations will be relieved from duty.

Bids for furnishing the Subsistence Department in Washington yesterday, with two thousand barrels of flour were opened. A much greater number of barrels were offered than were called for. Bids ranged from $10 50 to $10 40 for No. 1 flour, and from $9 70 to $10 25 for No. 2. All the No. 1 flour offered at $10 45 and under, and all the No. 2 flour offered at $9 84 and under, was taken.

The Maryland registration case, involving the constitutionality of the test oath disfranchising clause of the State constitution, which was appealed from Montgomery county and carried up from the Maryland Court of Appeals, will not be heard at the present term of the United States Supreme Court, as had been anticipated.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has been informed by letters written from Forts Randall and Sully, Dacotah Territory, and forwarded by Major General Pope, that a great number of Indians are arriving at the above named forts almost daily, from the country above, in a starving and destitute condition.

The Supreme Court—through Judge Nelson—decided yesterday in the case of an appeal from New York that the State has the right to tax shares of the stockholders in national banks on the ground that such shares are not a part of the banking capital. Chief Justice Chase dissented.

It is reported that the Navy Department is about to send a monitor and a fast side-wheel steamer to the Newfoundland fishing banks, to look out for the interests of our citizens in that locality, and prevent any breach of the peace between them and the subjects of Great Britain.

The case of State vs. Jas. P. Paca, John P. Paca and Wm. B. Paca, for the murder of John P. Paca, the younger, which was in progress at Denton, Caroline county, Md., was concluded on the 24th. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty," and the accused were discharged.

The President's levee last night was attended by an unusually large number of persons, distinguished and otherwise. Several of the foreign ministers, members of the Cabinet, officers of the army and navy, and members of both houses of Congress, were among those present.

In radical quarters all is alive with the idea of ejecting Mr. Stockton, of New Jersey, from his seat in the Senate, and thus enable them to pass bills over the President's veto, together with the desired constitutional amendments. Hon. Solomon Foot, the Senator from Vermont, is growing more feeble. He was easier last night, but his physicians seemed to have slight hopes of his recovery.

FINANCIAL.—Of the three hundred millions of dollars in the currency of the National banks authorized by Congress all but about thirty-seven millions has already been issued, and some of the advocates of paper expansion are urging the expediency of having the limit increased to four hundred millions, for the accommodation of distant parts of the country.

The Southern States more particularly, if the proposed contraction of the legal tender should take place—but it is difficult to see how an early return to specie payments can be secured if the authorities should permit expansion to keep even pace with contraction; it is to be hoped, therefore that they will not authorize any more currency to be issued. It is in this regard that Mr. Freeman Clarke, Comptroller of Currency, first manifested an adverse policy to that of Secretary McCulloch, by suggesting the authorizing of another $100,000,000 of National bank issues, while the Secretary was declaring and arguing for contraction. The loan bill passed on Friday by the House was sent to the Senate yesterday. It will probably be considered by the Senate committee on finance to-day, and it is the general opinion that the Senate will pass it, with perhaps some unimportant amendments. If in July, Gold should drop to 12 1/2, the Secretary will probably avail himself of the 6 per cent gold interest option on the 7 30's of this issue.

Lord Byron's grand-daughter—the daughter of his beloved Ada—was among the first to take her seat in the Peers' gallery in the House of Lords at the recent opening of Parliament by the Queen. Her pale face, light brown hair, and bright intelligent eyes, created general interest. She is considered to have a greater resemblance to her illustrious grandfather than even her late mother.

It is proposed in London to form a "Girls' Household Brigade," in order to employ girls under fifteen years of age in domestic work, and to save part of their earnings so as to enable them in time to emigrate or get into better service, having made a character for themselves by honest industry.

LETTER FROM LOUDOUN COUNTY.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
LEESBURG, VA., March 24, 1866.—Our County Court adjourned on Thursday, after the unprecedented session of ten days. A great deal of business transacted but nothing further worthy of note.

I think there is less cash afloat in the County of Loudoun than I have ever known, but I was not here from 1837 to 1840.

There is a vast deal of land in market, and I think more disposition to sell.

It has been estimated that $300,000 have been taken from the County of Loudoun for taxes and stamp duties and goods, and nothing has come back, except the proceeds of a little marketing. This, under ordinary circumstances, would be brought back by the wheat crop, leaving us our hogs and cattle and sheep for improvements and increase. But not so now, all will be required for improvements and taxes.

Times must become worse before they can become better, and I think a "general bankrupt law" will, in the end, be the only means of certainly relieving our people. I hear, but cannot vouch for the fact, that there is a petition in circulation, or rather sneaking about, for annexing Loudoun county to West Virginia; and the reason urged for the said annexation is worthy of consideration by your "territorials," namely, there are many negroes in Virginia, these negroes will have to be elevated by education, this will entail taxation upon you, which you can escape by falling into the arms of A. J. Boreman, Esq., of West Virginia, there being mighty few negroes in that State.

Having made the negro a free man, and imposed all the responsibilities of a free man upon him, they are now for cutting loose from him and letting him work out his own destiny, assisted by the "Freedmen's Bureau."

I wish your reporter could make a trip to Loudoun, to show up these folks and let the world know what they are about.

March 25.—It snowed very hard yesterday for 15 or 20 minutes, and turned very cold.—The wind is now blowing a gale, and water freezing within doors.

At a fancy ball at the Tulleries lately, there was a quadrille of all nations. The prettiest girl in Paris was chosen to represent France.—It was the charming Miss Beckwith, an American! She wore a white satin dress, with a tricolor sash.

The custom-house officers at Providence, R. I., and Newbern, N. C., have seized vessels engaged in the smuggling business, and confiscated their cargoes, consisting of rum and molasses.
